Barbaresco DOCG

WINEMAKING PHILOSOPHY

The historical production technique is used, blending batches from areas with different microclimates.

Alcoholic fermentation is traditional, at a temperature of 28-30°C, and lasts about 20 days.

Malolactic fermentation is followed by a period of ageing in large oak barrels, where the wine spends up to one year.

TASTING NOTES

Colour: ruby red shading to garnet.

Bouquet: very intense and really complex, with scents of ripe plum and black cherry. Exhibiting powder coffee and tobacco notes as well.

Palate: rich, generous and subtly zesty. Persistent with sweet and well-integrated tannins. The finish and aftertaste show notes of vanilla and cherry.

Spending up to one year in large oak barrels, this Barbaresco - a blend of vineyard sites - expresses some wild strawberry alongside notes of black tea, sous bois and fresh herbs. Intense and concentrated yet juicy and with beautiful breezy freshness, this is a great example of why everybody should be buying Barbaresco 2021s. The tannins are maybe slightly firm, but it seems to be more the wood than the grape, so give this more time to harmonise and then enjoy.

Notes of sweet cherries and dried strawberries, with hints of chocolate, oranges and dried flowers. Medium-bodied, textured and velvety with fresh acidity and generous red-fruit character. A polished finish.

Aromas of red berry, dried herb and dark culinary spice follow over to the savory palate along with notes of bitter orange and hazelnut. Taut, fine-grained tannins and fresh acidity provide elegant support and balance.

A fresh, medium-bodied nebbiolo with a tight and focused red-berry nose and palate, lightly firm tannins and good drive at the end. Not complex, but I like the racy character with lots of fruit pushing through.

Wild cherry, leather and dark spice aromas form the nose.

Taut and linear, the medium-bodied palate offers black cherry extract, blood orange and coffee bean alongside taut, somewhat drying tannins.

Underbrush, toasted hazelnut and eucalyptus aromas waft out of the glass. Austere and tightly wound, the firm palate offers cherry marinated in spirits, licorice and rosemary framed in rather astringent, drying tannins.

Ripe red berries, nuts and mushrooms on the nose. Medium-bodied with fine, lightly firm tannin and a spicy-fruit finish. Decent focus here.
