

WINEMAKING PHILOSOPHY

The grapes come from vineyards in the municipality of Barolo, at altitudes between 280 and 380 metres above sea level. The soils are of marine sedimentary origin, dating back to the "Piedmont Tertiary Basin", and are characterised by the presence of sedimentary calcareous-clay marl, alternating layers of marl and sand or sandstone, with a prevalence of Sant'Agata Marl (silty grey clay-based sedimentary rock, which can sometimes be bluish and contains varying quantities of limestone). This terroir produces wines which become elegant, aromatic and balanced within 3-4 years. Harvesting is followed by alcoholic fermentation, with maceration on skins for about 20 days. Malo-lactic fermentation takes place in steel. The wine then ages in oak barrels up to 24 months.

TASTING NOTES

Colour: red, tending towards garnet.

Bouquet: intense and complex, with notes of violet, vanilla, tobacco and goudron.

Palate: dry and warm, with great body and structure. The lingering persistent finish reveals ripe black and red fruit and an evident balsamic note.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Grape variety: Nebbiolo

Alcohol: 14.50 % vol.

Appellation: Barolo del Comune di Barolo DOCG

Aging: Up to 24 months in oak barrels.

Delicate Barolo with violets, fresh roses, red fruit and subtle spices. Light- to medium-bodied, it shines with crisp acidity on the firm, crunchy palate.

The elegant 2020 vintage is the best version I've had to date of Vite Colte's Barolo del Comune di Barolo Essenze. It opens with alluring scents of cherry cobbler, fragrant blue flower, leather and baking spice. On the supple, savory palate, taut, refined tannins accompany ripe Morello cherry, cranberry, nutmeg and mocha.

Ripe plums with berries, walnuts, leather and hints of spice. It's full-bodied with round, chewy tannins and a juicy finish. Very tannic. Solid. Needs at least three or four years to soften. Try after 2024,

Highly Recommended 91 (07/2020)

"This is the top brand of the huge Terre da Vino cooperative. It works with selected growers who agree to very high standards of viticulture. Specific parcels in Barolo are vinified separately, aged in small oak barrels, then blended before bottling. The nose is very ripe but subdued, with cherry and marzipan. aromas It's firm on the palate, quite rich and concentrated, and good acidity gives flair and leads to a long peppery finish. Still adolescent."
