

WINEMAKING PHILOSOPHY

The lands of "Nizza" date back to the Tertiary age and are characterised by calcareous soils with an alkaline reaction, poor in organic substances and dry in summer.

The vineyards belong to a small area of only 2-3 hectares and the yields are very low (about 1,5 Kg. pro vine), in order to obtain a very concentrated wine, rich in extracts and coloring substances.

After the completion of the fermentation, the wine ages in barriques, where it spends 12 months, and further 12 months in large barrels.

This Riserva is released only in the best vintages.

The full-bodied Nizza La Luna e i Falò opens with aromas of spice, toasted nut and ripe black-skinned fruit. The aromas segue into savory flavors of chewy blackberry, crushed black cherry and licorice accompanied by polished tannins and fresh acidity. Great fruit and freshness.

Aromas of forest floor, leather, tobacco and baked plum form the nose on the Vite Colte 2019 La Luna e I Falò Nizza Riserva. It's a great Nizza, delivering prune, dried cherry, espresso and peppercorn flavors before an almost salty finish. Enveloping, polished tannins provide seamless support.

92 (05/08/2022) Aromas of bark, sap, blackberry and blueberry. Medium-to full-bodied with some salty-mineral notes. Juicy. A little savory, with vanilla and ground clove coming through at the end. Nicely structured.
